All Get Together for 1923

Englewood has a number of strong organizations that should combine their interests for the good of the town. The Englewood Business Men's Association, the Englewood Commercial and Civic Association, both of which are purely commercial organizations, and the Kiwanis and Lions are commercial and social. Then we have the Englewood Woman's club and the Hamilton Park Woman's club as well as the Community clubs and the strong Parent-Teachers' associations, so that combined we would have a membership that the authorities would be compelled to listen to. The central Englewood Park as well as an enlarged field house for Hamilton Park is due us from the South Park Board and it is due us to receive both as we pay a very large share of the taxes for the Park district. Our streets deserve a larger share of the street fund raised by city automobile licenses, and there are many other matters that we need and could get if we would get after them in an united front.

Will Rents Be Reduced This Spring?

The building committee and other authorities of the Chicago Chamber of Commerce in noting the great amount of building within the past year and the great number of new houses and apartment buildings now in progress, says there will undoubtedly be a reduction in such rents the coming spring. This sounds almost too good to be true, but there certainly has been an unsually large amount of building in all the Englewood districts, yet we need several hundred more apartment buildings.

The city primaries and aldermanic election will occur February 27th. The registration day will be on Tuesday, February 6.

Mr. Charles E. Tullis, of 605 W. 60th st., died Dec. 20th, funeral Dec. 23rd, under the auspices of the Odd Fellows Kenwood Lodge. Interment at Evergreen.

The remains of Alice L. Small who died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. James T. Downey, 6620 Lafayette ave., were taken to Wilmington, Ill., for burial Monday.

Mrs. Margie Brown, of 427 66th st., announces the engagement of her daughter, Florence Loraine, to Donald Greely Wilson, also of Englewood.

Mrs. Walter W. Speck, 257 W. 64th st., who has been sick for the past four weeks, is now able to resume her domestic and social duties.

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Gibbons, 5723 Normal blvd., are entertaining their sister, Mrs. Nellie Palmer Texter and her friend, Mrs. Kline, from Rossford, Ohio.

Friday evening, Jan. 19th, Miss Mildred DeLa, assisted by LeRoy Hamp, tenor, welcomes you to the Masonic temple, where her pupils will give a piano recital on that evening.

Regular monthly meeting of the Women's auxiliary of the Oakhaven Old Peoples Home will be held at the Pilgrim Congregational church, February 1, when a Manufacturers' luncheon will be served.

Miss Edith E. Crocker entertained a party of friends at a luncheon and cards on Friday. Miss Harriett Knickerbocker won first prize and Mrs. Allen Clarke carried off the consolation.

Rev. Vivian Albertus Peterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Peterson, of 6636 Harvard ave., is announced as engaged to Cornelia Cushing of Cleveland Heights, Cleveland, Ohio. Rev. Peterson is the rector of St. James parish, Cleveland.

Chas. H. Reese, for many years a resident of Englewood, living at 6449 Normal blvd., but for the past three years residing at Batavia, N. Y., died Jan. 7, of pneumonia. He is survived by his widow, Emma L. Reese and daughter, Mrs. May Mason, of Batavia.

Sunday, January 21 the Starlight Spiritualist church, 6316-18 Yale ave., will have Harry Smith as speaker. The mediums will be May Hansen, May Clausen and Emma Slapp. Dr. A. G. Fiske, our president, extends a welcoming hand to all.

The Reading Circle of the First M. E. church of Englewood will hold its January meeting Friday the 26th at the home of Mrs. J. A. Black, 350 Normal pkwy. Please note the change in place of meeting. Mrs. W. K. Earle will sing and there will be an interesting talk on "The New America Shop" by Mrs. Amos W. Walker, who brings with her an exhibit of the handicraft of our new Americans. This will be a fine opportunity for better acquainting ourselves with the interests and activities of a people who are a part of us, but of whom we know very little.

Too Much Romantic Publicity for Our Criminals

It is nauseous to read the sentimental, romantic and attractive publicity the city papers give to the criminal element. We read of the "Bandit Queens" and the "Brave Lochinvar Kidnappers" and a glamour of romance is cast about the most heinous criminals by these purveyors of news. It may be that some of their readers care for this slop, but we are sure a majority, and all decent readers are disgusted with it. Another phase of the matter is that such publicity incites other rattle-brained publicity seekers to get their names in the papers under like conditions, and we have a regular spasm of crime along the same lines. The writer spent twenty years of his earlier life on city papers and such publicity would have been considered bad form. It is sufficient to record the crime without filthy details, the arrest and conviction and then let the criminals sink from sight in the state prison. It became necessary some years ago to forbid the press from printing all of the details of executions, and all criminologists acknowledge that it put a stop to the matter of making a hero of the murderers and crimes of this sort were lessened. A legislative act governing other matters pertaining to the criminals life would no doubt be beneficial and we would have fewer young men and girls seeking to gain a doubtful reputation by the criminal route.

Mrs. Bertha Pinney, Cleveland, Ohio, is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Edwards, 255 64th st.

Mrs. J. D. Kirkpatrick, Columbus, Ind., returned to her home after spending five weeks visiting her daughter, Mrs. Reidenback, 7116 Harvard ave., and Mrs. Hutton, 6821 Perry ave.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Noyes announce the arrival of a son, John Michael, on Friday, Jan. 5th. Mrs. Noyes will be remembered as Miss Catherine O'Neil, and is making her home with her parents at 5709 Normal blvd.

Mrs. Henry Platt Cushing, of Cleveland, Ohio, announces the engagement of her daughter, Cornelia, to the Rev. Vivian Albertus Peterson, rector of St. James parish, Cleveland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Albert Peterson, 6636 Harvard ave.

The organ recital given by John Doane, organist and choirmaster of the Church of the Incarnation, New York City, took place Monday evening at the M. E. church, 64th st. and Stewart ave., to a large and appreciative audience. Great praise was given Miss Dorothy Greathouse, soprano, and Victor Marburger, accompanist.

Catholic Daughters of America, Chicago Assembly

The Chicago Assembly of the Catholic Daughters of America announce the engagement of "The Joyce Kilmer Players," in William Roeder's and A. E. Bradley's startling play on Spiritism, "The Watchers at the Gate." This is not a movie, but a mystery play replete with thrilling dramatic situations that hold the attention of the audience from the rise to the fall of the curtain. There will be one performance only, which will be Sunday matinee, January 28th, at Cohan's Grand.

Tickets are 75c to $2.50 and can be secured from Miss Rose Gordon, 6825 Yale ave. Proceeds of the affair to go toward the Assembly's Educational fund.

Miss Mary Costello, formerly of Englewood, is general chairman and extends to her many friends of Englewood a very cordial invitation to attend this matinee.

Installation of Officers, Geo. G. Meade Camp

George G. Meade Camp No. 8, Sons of Veterans, held public installation of officers January 7th. Past Division Commander of Camp 6, Frederick Phillips, and Division Commander, William F. Jenkins of Camp 12, conducted the installation.

The officers are: Commander, Fred Wendt, Sr.; Senior Vice Commander, Harry Jacobs; Junior Vice Commander, Fred Wendt, Jr.; Secretary and Treasurer, J. M. Jones; General, A. E. Whitley; Patriotic Instructor, H. E. Robb; Chaplain, William F. Peterson; Color Bearer, Walter Stewart; Outer Guard, Harry Pope; Camp Colonels, A. L. Baker, A. E. Whiteley and H. E. Robb.

The camp presented the outgoing commander, A. L. Baker, with a watch chain. The camp meets every second and fourth Thursday evening of the month at the G. A. R. hall, 6236 Princeton ave.

Proposed Zoning Ordinance

Details of the proposed zoning ordinance, which restricts the future use of every piece of property in the city for either residences, apartments or commercial and manufacturing purposes, have been made public by the Chicago zoning commission, which starts its hearings on the ordinances on January 22 and will close them February 5. Every section of the city will have an opportunity to be heard, and the measure will then be submitted to the council with the necessary amendments and its passage urged.

While the new ordinance will control the future uses to which a piece of property may be put, it is, nevertheless, sufficiently elastic, say its promoters, to permit modifications by an appeal board in the event the ordinance should work a hardship in any particular case. As the demand for such an ordinance comes chiefly from the property owners and will have a tendency to increase values, Chairman Charles Bostrum, who is also commissioner of buildings, believes there will be little, if any, opposition to its enactment.

To facilitate discussion, hearings have been arranged by districts. The proceedings will start at 10 a. m. each day.

List of Dates for Hearings

The dates agreed upon for the hearings by districts are as follows:

Jan. 22, the area south of 63rd st. to the city limits and east of Cottage Grove ave. to the lake.

Jan. 23, the territory south of 87th st. and west of Cottage Grove to the city limits.

Jan. 24, the district bounded by Pershing rd., Halsted st., 63rd and the lake and that bounded on the north by 63rd, on the west by Western ave., on the south by 87th st. and the east by Cottage Grove ave.

Jan. 25, the district bounded by Pershing rd., Halsted st., 63rd st. and Western ave. and that bounded by Pershing rd., Western ave., Crawford ave. and 87th st.

The commission made the following observations concerning its fourteen months' investigation:

There are 135,840 one-family houses, 96,500 two-flat buildings and 37,630 apartment houses. Approximately 750,000 persons live in one-family houses, 1,000,000 in two-flat buildings and 1,000,000 in apartment buildings and above stores.

Chicago's area is 200 square miles, of which forty-seven are streets and alleys, twenty-two are in parks, water, cemeteries and similar uses, leaving a balance of 131 usable private land. There are forty-eight square miles of vacant property scattered throughout the city, fronting 1,574 miles of streets.

There are in excess of 20,000 industries, embracing more than 250

Sell More Quickly By Long Distance

Special lots of goods which must be moved quickly can be sold in the shortest time to out-of-town customers by use of the Long Distance telephone.

The greatest number of prospects can be reached in the shortest time over the Bell wires at a cost which is absurdly low compared with the value of the service.

Better still, the seller can know definitely before he hangs up the receiver if his prospect is not in the market and can go on to the next customer with no strings tied to his offer.

"Station-to-station" Long Distance service is quicker and cheaper. It is explained in the current issue of the Alphabetical Telephone Directory.

Notice of Public Hearing on Proposed Zoning Ordinance

PUBLIC notice is hereby given, pursuant to an Act of the General Assembly concerning the regulation of buildings and structures, the intensity of use of lot areas, the classification of trades, industries, buildings, and structures, the creation of districts of different classes, and the establishment of regulations applicable thereto, that a public hearing on the proposed zoning ordinance will be held on Monday, January 22, 1923, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, in the Council Chamber in the City Hall of the City of Chicago. Said hearing will be held under the auspices of the Chicago Zoning Commission.

Copies of the proposed zoning ordinance are accessible for examination at the office of the Chicago Zoning Commission, 163 West Washington Street, Chicago.

It is the intention of the Commission to afford an opportunity for an expression of views of all parties and to that end the city has been divided into 22 districts. It is proposed to adjourn the hearing from time to time in order that separate consideration may be had for each district. A tentative program has also been arranged, subject to change in case the Council Chamber shall be required for other purposes. Lists of the districts and the dates thus set may be obtained from the Commission, it being understood that if for any reason the consideration of any one district is to be postponed it will be set for a date after the consideration of the other districts.

When one calls Police 1313 to report an alarm, there will be no more tedious waiting for help. A new flivver squad organized at the command of Chief Fitzmorris will appear within a short time. These officers report at the station every twenty minutes and are given alarm calls. So much for another addition to our good service.

Isn't it strange that we all become very popular as the spring primary approaches? Husbands never knew that they had such efficient wives, and wives have always been unable to see the wonderful traits which hubby possesses. And what clever children we have! Of course we just become aware of these talents when one of our numerous candidates' worker's visits the home, and after all the loads of blarney, quietly asks the family to become interested in the one man who will revolutionize the district.

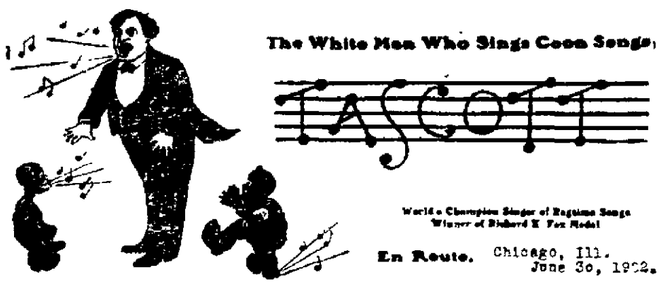
WHY BE SATISFIED WITH LESS?



En Route. Chicago, Ill. June 30, 1922.

Master Howard W. Schultz,
6603 So. Halsted Street,
Chicago, Ill.

My little friend.-

During my extensive professional travels I have come in contact with a great number of artists in their special line- actors of note and prominence as well as lesser lights, and I therefore believe I am capable of judging merit when I see it displayed. I have been associated with you a number of different times on the same bill and want to assure you, in all sincerity, that your ability as a dancer is without question. It is always a pleasure to see you work, knowing that your interpretation is perfect and your execution very good. There is no doubt that continued efforts in your chosen field will bring you into the front ranks and I hope that you will continue your honest endeavors- although at the expence of hard work- and justify the faith of not only myself but many others who are following your career with great interest. I don't want to flatter you but for your age you are the best I have seen and I will at any time stand by this assertion before or to any person.

Very truly yours,
Professionally known as "LASCOTT"

Ogden Park Activities

Wednesday Evening Programs

The Wednesday program for January 24th will be given by the St. Justin Martyr's Dramatic club and will consist of readings, musical numbers, and dancing.

On Wednesday evening, Jan. 31st, there will be a concert given by the Children's Chorus of the park.

The Toboggan

The toboggan slide for children has been very popular during the cold snap. Hundreds of girls and boys have been out on it every day. A long hill of glassy ice extended from the flag pole almost to the lagoon. This will be a regular attraction at the park whenever the weather allows.

Ice Carnival

Weather permitting, the date for the winter sports day has been set by the committee for Sunday, Jan. 28th. It is hoped that the carnival feature will be more successful this year than last. Prizes will again be offered for novel costumes and effects. The races will again be held in the afternoon.

Birds Christmas Tree

When the big tree in the hall was dismantled the children of the neighborhood gathered to decorate it anew with offerings for the birds. It now stands outside and gives the birds a feast.

Men's Gymnasium

Leon Light has not missed a day since gymnasium opened and has scored consistently in games and stunts. He now holds the highest individual score of over 16 points. Irwin Weissman is only one-half point behind him. The following boys get honorable mention: Frank Hirsch, Earle Peterson, George Appel, Joseph Light, Carl Bates, Theo. Light, James McDonald, Daniel Frankel. These ten boys have been regular in attendance and have scored 60 per cent or better of the points attainable. By keeping up the good work they will probably win the highest award at the end of the year. Many other boys are near the sixty mark, but haven't been able so far to make the grade. They are expected to pull above this during the next month.

Girl's Volley Ball

The afternoon Limited team defeated Russell Square last Saturday. The Unlimited team was defeated by Lyman Trumbull. The evening "B" team was defeated by Grand Crossing. The "A" team defeated Grand Crossing by a decisive score.

New Books at the Ogden Park Library

Among the new books at the Ogden Park library is one which will interest many readers of Zane Grey. Those who like the glamor of romance and the thrill of adventure in Grey's novels, will want to read the true stories of his own adventures in "Tales of Lonely Trails." Stories of Zane Grey's hunting, camping and exploring trips in the wild and desolate parts of the West. Three of the five narratives are lively tales of adventure. The others are stories of camping trips, trout fishing and bear trails—many exciting bear hunts filled his days in Arizona with adventure—a thrillin account of capturing mountain lions alive on a wild plateau, and altogether, the tales are hearty, exciting and as refreshing as his stories and for those who pursue the active out-of-doors life, this book has charm and appeal, and men who either hunt or would like to hunt, will eagerly read this book.

"Down the Yellowstone," by Lewis R. Freeman, is another good book of travel. It is a gossipy account of sights, sounds and persons encountered on a trip down the Yellowstone from its source to the Missouri.

These are the two newest books in the collection of travel books in the Ogden Park library. Others which you would enjoy are: "Old Morocco," by C. E. Andrews, which is an unusual travel story of that part of Morocco untouched by Western influence, where the natives live "amid the ghost-haunted ruins of their old past." The quietly adventurous journey is a mixture of good description, mystic stories, romant' folksongs and customs. "Tramping Through Mexico," by Harry A. Franck; "What I Saw in America," G. K. Chesterton; "A Naturalist in the Great Lakes Region" by E. R. Downing; "Vagabonding Down the Andes," by H. A. Franck; "Working North from Patagonia," by Franck; "White Shadows in the South Seas," by O'Brien; "Atolls of the Sun," "Mystic Isles of the South Seas," by O'Brien; "Great White South," by Ponting, and "South," by Sir Ernest H. Shackleton.

Get these books at your public library. Have you a library card? If not, why not? The Ogden Park Branch library is open every day except Sunday, from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. and has books for you to read either at home or in the library. Get card, and use your library!

At the Harvard Theatre

Friday, Jan. 19, last times to see this beautiful production, "When Knighthood was in Flower" with Marion Davies.

Sir Joseph Duveen, the celebrated art connoisseur and international authority on antiques, declares that Cosmopolitan's production of "When Knighthood Was in Flower" is "the most stupendous reproduction of Henry VIII's court life that has ever been achieved. . . . . A marvelous piece of artistry, historically accurate in every detail."

"The sumptuousness of the settings amazed me," said the English art critic, who is familiar with every detail of Hampton court palace, where the court scenes are laid. "The wonderful hall of Hampton court is depicted with extraordinary fidelity, with real Gothic tapestries for hangings and ancient suits of armor correct to the period."

He recognized the old stained glass windows and the famous terrace, where even the trees were characteristic of England.

"A truly entrancing pageant of gorgeously attired court ladies of the time of Bluff King Hal."

Saturday, Jan. 20, the screen's most versatile actress, Norma Talmadge, with an all star cast, in a revival of the great screen success "The Secret of the Storm Country." This is a picture in which Miss Talmadge scores a sensational hit.

Sunday and Monday, Jan. 21 and 22, "Broken Chains," the winner of the $10,000 Chicago Daily News' prize.

"Broken Chains" is the winner of the first prize of $10,000 in the Chicago Daily News' $30,000 scenario contest out of 32,000 manuscripts submitted; produced on an elaborate and sumptuous scale by Goldwyn Pictures corporation; with a star cast including Colleen Moore, Malcolm McGregor, Claire Windsor, Ernest Torrence, Beryl Mercer, James Marcus, William Orlamond, Gerald Pring, Edward Peil and Leo Willis; directed and personally supervised by Allen Holubar, one of the ablest producers in the industry. If you like thrills this one affords them to you unlimited.

Tuesday and Wednesday, January 23 and 24, Katherine MacDonald in "Money, Money, Money."

The title of the latest Katherine MacDonald picture tells that an up-to-the-minute topic has been selected as the theme. "Money, Money, Money!" It is her first production for First National release in 1923.

Thermopolis is the scene of the story. A small mid-western town that is just developing its "ultra smart set." Katherine MacDonald perfects the character of Priscilla Hobbs, whose family's old-fashioned reticence about society causes her no end of unhappiness. According to the story by Larry Evans, the big scene in this production should occur when Priscilla steps on the gas of her high-powered roadster and plunges the machine through a blinding storm in an effort to save her father from disgrace.

Considering the story and the cast that has been selected to work with the star, "Money, Money, Money!" should prove to be a very good start into the new season for Miss MacDonald. Opposite her is Jack Doughgerty as Reggie Gray, but next in importance to the work of the star is the role of Old Man Hobbs, which is given over to Carl Stockdale. Other important parts are entrusted to such players as Charles Clary, Frances Raymond, Margaret Loomis and Herschel Mayall.

This Week at the Englewood

"Gimme a Thrill" this week at the Englewood theatre does horrors. It is one of the best shows that has appeared on the Englewood stage. It is high class production. They have the best dancers that ever graced any stage. The singing is of the best. The comedy is clean and plenty of it.

The specialties include the well known "Gene Barnes & Co.," "Tip Top Four," "Herbert and Baggett" and others. You will pronounce this show the equal of the Gertrude Hoffman dancing troupe. In fact it really creates a better impression than the Miss Hoffman's production.

This Week at the Empress

"Hippity Hip" at the Empress this week is splendid in nearly all its phases. "A lesson in base ball" made quite a hit with the audience. Also ladies' night at the baths "took well with the majority." The pirates' rendezvous has many brilliant points to it. The comediennes are especially clever. The extra attraction for this week is indeed extra special. All in all, the Empress has a show which ranks above the average.

The agitation for the new and enlarged field house for Hamilton Park should not be allowed to subside. Now is the time to do some good campaigning.

An overheated furnace is reported to have caused the fire which damaged the interior of the P. W. Wilson home at 7019 Stewart ave. on Saturday.

The aldermanic race in the new ward promises to be between Ald. Benny Wilson and former alderman Albert Fisher. Both are excellent men.

The store building at the northeast corner of Wentworth ave. and 71st st. has again changed hands. The new owner is Harry Wish and the reported selling price, $20,000.

Miss Jennie Kelley, aged 57 years, was found dead in her room at 7419 Harvard ave., Friday. She is supposed to have hanged herself with an electric light cord, owing to despondency and unemployment.

The Woman's Missionary society of the Normal Park M. E. church met on Thursday with Mrs. J. V. Turner of 7054 Union ave. A most interesting study period was conducted by Mrs. Pringle.

Funeral services for Olin Mason Caward, a former resident of Hamilton Park, who died at the Swedish Covenant hospital, were held on Friday at the Englewood Masonic temple under the auspices of Englewood commandery.

The property at the northwest corner of Eggleston ave. and 71st st., 93x125, improved with two three story brick buildings, one containing twelve flats and the other three, has been sold to Frank Pupin for an indicated $89,500.

Hamilton Park people will learn with sorrow of the death of Rev. Olin Mason Caward at the Swedish Covenant hospital, January 9th. His funeral occurred last Saturday from Englewood Masonic temple under auspices of Englewood Commandery and interment was at Mount Greenwood cemetery.

On Friday, January 26th, the Hamilton Park Woman's club will have an informal reception for new members. This is an annual affair where all formality is put aside, everybody gets acquainted with people new in the club and assists in the entertaining stunts that are usually arranged by the social committee.

The first community dinner of the winter will be given at the Normal Park M. E. church on Wednesday evening, January 24. An illustrated lecture, "Animal Children," will follow the dinner. Reservations, which may be made with the pastor, Rev. J. H. Williamson, 7130 Harvard ave., telephone Vincennes 6810, will not be received after Sunday, Jan. 21.

At the morning meeting of the Hamilton Park Woman's club on Tuesday, Jan. 23rd, Mrs. Katherine Graham of the Chicago university, will speak on "Rupert Brook, Walter de la Mare and the Imagists." The chorus will meet at 1 p. m. At 2 p. m., Marguerite Arens will give a reading from one of the contemporary dramas. B. Fred Wise, tenor, will sing.

St. Carthage Branch Installs Officers

A page in the history of this new parish was written at the open meeting of St. Carthage branch of the Holy Name society on Monday evening. Our hall was crowded to capacity, and more than forty new members were enrolled. The ladies, present in goodly numbers, gave additional impetus to our officers and members to carry through our contemplated program of activities for the year of 1923.

James Murray, representing the Archdiocesan Union, installed our officers, and delivered a most eloquent address on the benefits to be derived from membership in the Holy Name society. We hope that we may have the pleasure of hearing Mr. Murray soon again.

The entertainment committee deserves much credit for the splendid musical program arranged, and we are deeply indebted to the following for their participation:

Saint Carthage Choir

Mrs. Mary Knight, directress; Miss Helen Gallagher, organist. Misses Agatha Lundquist, Marie Conroy, Irene Enright, Florence Cotter, Eleanor Evans, Catherine Gallagher, Etta McCormick, Helen Kelly, Teresa Evans, Clara Lundquist and Frances Hubler. Messrs. Basketball—Hamilton 85's by defeating Mark White Square, 10 to 7 last Wednesday qualified for the finals in the South Park tournament. It is reported that Capt. R. Schneider and McCormick featured an offense while Rowley, Thatcher and Lieferman played the floor in "big league" style. Lineup of the Hamilton team: Rowley, r.f.; McCormick, l.f.; Schneider, c.; Thatcher, r.g.; Lieferman, l.g.

On Wednesday at Ogden Park, Hamilton 95's, already having a record of eleven straight wins, entered the South Park tournament in a game with Bessemer Park. This team is said to be of championship caliber and worthy of watching in its "chase" for the pennant.

Sunday Afternoon Concerts

Next Sunday afternoon's program will be given by Armand Roth, one of the rising young violinists of the city; Millard Wilkie, a xylophone soloist; the Misses Laura Merriam and Mary Jeanette Williams, who will give dramatic readings and the sketch, "Reform." The opening concert of last Sunday by the Bell Telephone male chorus was greatly enjoyed by the large audience that packed the hall.

Hamilton Park Branch Library

An entertaining biography is often as engrossing as a book of fiction, and much more helpful. The Hamilton Park branch of the Chicago Public library has an interesting collection of lives of famous people, both new and old, which may be taken home by any possessor of a library card. Five books may be taken at a time, so that one may have an assortment of books to please his varied moods. Some of the biographies in the Hamilton Park library are listed below: Education of Henry Adams; Alexander the Great by Wheeler; The Promised Land by Mary Antin; Margaret Ogilvy by J. M. Barrie; Americanization of Edward Bok; Daniel Boone by Thwaites; My Boyhood by John Burroughs; My Trip Abroad by Charles Chaplin; Daughter of Napoleon by Princess de Chimay; My Mark Twain by W. D. Howells; Short Story of Mark Twain by Paine; Joseph Conrad by Hugh Walpole; Tenting on the Plains by Custer; Boots and Saddles by Custer, Charles Dickens by Richard Burton; Thomas Alva Edison by F. A. Jones; The Opinions of Anatole France; Autobiography of Benjamin Franklin; Elizabeth Fry by L. E. Richards; Robert Fulton by Sutcliffe; A Son of the Middle Border by Garland; A Daughter of the Middle Border; Oliver Goldsmith by Irving; Knut Hamsun by Larsen; Carter H. Harrison by Abbot; William Dean Howells by Cooke; Steeplejack by Huneker; Letters by Huneker; Henry James by Rebecca West; Personal Recollections of Joan of Arc by Clemens.

The Hamilton Park branch library circulated 131,672 books during 1922, which is an increase of 17,157 over 1921. 1,648 new borrowers were registered during the year, and much use was made of the reference books and magazines.

Hiram Kelly Branch Library New Books

Sometimes we tire of fiction light or otherwise and feel the need of more solid diet. It is then we turn to the output of non-fiction for suggestions. If we find a John Burroughs or Vilhjalmur Stefansson among them the quest for many of us is ended. A posthumous volume of Burroughs has just been published which includes "Emerson and His Journals," "Another Word on Thoreau," "A Critical Glance into Darwin" and other fruits of observation and meditation. "The Northward Course of Empire" by Stefansson is a further development of the thesis advanced in the author's "Friendly Arctic" that "far northern lands are not the icy deserts of popular belief but quite the opposite—habitable, possessed of a variety of resources, full of attractions for men of pioneering stamp and a hopeful means of relief for our over-crowded populations."

Zane Grey, the popular "wooly west" writer, has given us a group of true adventure tales of the wild and desolate parts of the West. Hearty, exciting, refreshing stories of "Roping Lions in the Grand Canyon"—trout fishing and bear hunting on "Colorado trails," camping with his little son in "Tonto Basin,"—all written in a simple, direct sincere style that "registers" and makes for very pulse-beating reading. The title is "Tales of Lonely Trails."

Among biographies and letters December supplies some that are outstanding for the year. One that is particularly important from a political viewpoint is the "Life and Letters of Walter H. Page." Walter H. Page, appointed ambassador to Great Britain by President Wilson in March, 1913, entered a career of ambassadorship, during which he established himself as an American of real importance. He was a brilliant and tireless letter-writer and throughout the trying time when he was playing such an important diplomatic part he wrote full and frankly out-spoken letters home—to his friends, family and the President, with whose policy, though he was his friend and admirer, he strongly differed during the years before our entrance into the war. "The letters of Franklin K. Lane" are also of importance and interest for the same reason. Lane as Secretary of the Interior during the Wilson administration, had much to say in regard to Cabinet talk and war plans, and his letters, which are intensely human, mirror his irritation after an unsatisfactory cabinet meeting or his personal feelings on certain questions of importance. His letters are, however, never bitter but always full of his love for and dependence upon his friends. At times he reveals his innermost thoughts and questionings about life and faith and immortality.

To turn from politics and public affairs of such vast importance it is pleasant to pick up the "Letters of James Gibbons Huneker," the dear old "Steeplejack of the Arts," and glean rare jewels of inspiration from his altogether charming and genuinely real letters to friends, celebrities and critics. These letters show the human side of Huneker which we expected but did not quite find in that altogether delightful autobiography "Steeplejack." Here we see his hardships, aspirations, loves, enthusiasms and human personal associations. Here we see him struggling against poverty as we never dreamed it possible of this stern, proud old man. As B. De-Casseres says, "These letters sing and soar and weep. They are the daily telegrams to the wrold of the rarest thing in America—an individual."

These and many others are at the library waiting for you. Come and see for yourself the many of which we would be glad to tell you if space but permitted.

The library is open from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. on every week day except legal holidays.

Englewood Evening High School

Englewood Evening school opened Monday, January 8th, in all departments with an excellent attendance after the Christmas vacation. Although the new semester for the Standard High school does not begin till February 5th, some new students appeared for that work, entering with the intention of getting a good start for the new term in the four weeks remaining of the present one. In other departments of the school there were many new enrollments.

Radio Offered

Among the most interesting of the courses offered is that of Radio. "This course," said Mr. Tower, principal of the school, "is especially valuable for people having receiving sets in their homes. Information received in the Englewood Evening school radio course will make owning of a receiving set more worthwhile, for the owner will come to know something of the principles which make radio communication possible. All persons interested and especially those owning radio outfits, are invited to join the class. Come to the office any evening and make arrangements."

Sewing Classes Open

"But the school offers courses appealing to women also. The housewife who feels that she is somewhat in a rut may come to the Englewood Evening school and learn some new dishes, or the girl who has not received the training in cooking that she once would have got in the home, will find that these cooking classes will serve the purpose. Nor does the school stop with cooking. During the semester dozens of women and girls have made hats for themselves, ranging in price all the way from a dollar or so up to twenty-five. Dresses, too, have been designed and made—many of them. The work is intensely practical.

Foreigners Learn English

To no group in the community is Mr. Tower more eager to offer service than to the men and women who have recently come to this country and do not yet know the English language. Each person in the community can help in this if he knows of any person who wants to learn our language if he will see that the one in need of such instruction is guided to the school. Not only do these groups of foreign language speaking men and women have a chance to learn English, but they are instructed in the customs and the laws of the country as well and they are helped to secure their citizenship papers.

SULLIVAN'S SENSE AND NONSENSE

Coming Home With Rye

If a body meet a body, with pockets
full of rye,
"Don't a body need a toddy?" that's what they all cry.
Every time you meet a laddie,
"None," they say, "have I."
But let a fellow get a drop, they'll stick just like a fly.

Wisdom is largely a matter of knowing what isn't so.

A man should at least be honest as soon as he is rich enough to afford it.

Can it be possible that there will be no women candidates for alderman in Chicago this spring?

Marrying a man because he has one virtue is about as foolish as rejecting another because he has one fault.

Instead of hanging those wicked murderers we might have their teeth fixed and save the expense of the gallows—what?

No one hankers to be appointed to the school board of Chicago until the Grand Ury and the criminal court gets done with it.

I am unalterably opposed to underpaid child labor. Now there is poor little Jackie Coogan who will receive only $500,000.00 for four plays the coming season.

If that New York navy can't stop the bootlegger fleets from landing, we will have to send ours from Bubbly Creek and the Drainage Canal.

California is having an earthquake or two stirring up the populace, but the advertisements of that wonderful clime fail to mention them.

And now my good friend "Doc" Reid of Garfield Blvd., has a sore toe or something and is unable to appear before the special Grand Jury, so left his beautiful home and forgot to leave his forwarding address. Too bad Billy.

I see that Blandy in Austin boasts of seeing the first robin of the season, but our neighbors out in Blue Island say they are not jealous as they have several blind pigs in their neighborhood.

The big-game hunter had just returned from Africa and was relating some of his adventures. "The most astonishing experience I had," he said, "was when, passing through the bush I turned to find a lion just about to spring at me. He sprang, but I fell flat and the beast passed over me, and, apparently disgusted, bolted into the bush. I had a goat tethered near the spot as bait and returned the next day in the hope of catching the lion feeding. What do you think were my feelings when, as I approached the spot cautiously, I saw the lion practicing low jumps?"

Casey's definition of an alibi is, "Shure it's a thing to prove thot ye wor not at a place where ye weren't."

It is funny to note that everyone wants to keep the aldermanic and mayoralty elections this spring out of politics, but we all have to wait until the politicians from the different parties get together and tell us who our candidate is to be.

A much irritated Englewood school mam said to a very mischievous boy, "I wish I could be your mother for a month. I would take those pranks out of you," and the M. B. coolly replied, "All right, I'll just speak to Dad about it when I go home tonight."

He was preparing to go to his office in the city, and remarked to his rather suspicious little wifey: "In case I am detained at the office and cannot get home until late tonight, I will send you a note," but he felt cold chills running down his back when she icily answered, "Never mind about sending it, dear; I have already taken it out of your pocket."

Old Cap Skipworth told those fellows in Louisiana that if they didn't stop talking something would happen to them, and it did. Besides, he can't see what business it is of the rest of the state or the nation to have "a lot of damned Yankees mixing in their affairs anyway." It occurs to some of us that we had to mix in a bit from '61 to '65, also for the good of the country.

We don't believe this man came from Englewood, but the story does. A couple who had gone to Michigan for their vacation applied in vain for lodgings to half a dozen places and finally resorted to the last house in the village, and the man in answer to the inquiry said: "We have one room left, but the bed is only large enough for one," and the mean man answered, "Well, I suppose we will have to take it, but I don't quite like the idea of compelling my wife to sleep on the floor."

Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler said on his return from Paris: "Oh, yes, skirts are a little longer now, but, if you think the new fashions are really any more modest—well, listen to this story: A young American matron with a mansion in the Faubourg St. Honore called in her French doctor to consult him on the subject of vaccination. "Of course," she said, "I shan't want the mark to show." "No, of course not," said the doctor. "Well, that will be easily arranged. We'll vaccinate you a little above the knee. "Oh, how absurdly old-fashioned!" said the young matron. "As if that wouldn't show when I go bathing this winter in California. Look here, doctor, isn't there any such thing as internal vaccination?"

Englewood Woman's Club

On Monday, January 22, the morning meeting of the Englewood Woman's club will be in charge of the Department of Literature, Mrs. Philip H. Holmes, chairman. Mrs. Myrtle Le Fevre will have charge of the Self Culture, Mrs. Louise Fell Haynes will discuss Best Sellers. Henrietta Holmes Earle will present American Poetry in song. Her song recital will be composed of contrasting groups of the older American poems in song and the modern poetry. Leila Powell, instructor in the Northwestern University School of Speech and a reader of excellence and charm, will read from modern American poets. The morning promises to be both instructive and entertaining and presents an opportunity for becoming better acquainted with American poets and poetry.

In the afternoon there will be a symposium for discussion by experts of the following public questions, involving legislation of direct interest.

1. A resume of coming legislation by Miss Grace Dixon, chairman of the legislative department of the I. F. W. C.

2. Cook County Jail survey bond issue by Harriet Vittum, member of the advisory committee on the woman offender.

3. Civil Service by Russell Whitman, president of the Civil Service Reform association of Chicago.

4. Child Labor Amendment to the Federal Constitution by Winnifred Mason Huck, congresswoman-at-large. It is most fortunate for us that Mrs. Huck is in Chicago for a few days at this time and can come to the club to present one of the subjects in which she is vitally interested. She is the daughter of the late Wm. E. Mason, our former congressman.

The music of the afternoon will be by Mr. Edwin Delbridge, tenor. He has been doing fine work in and around Chicago and possesses a voice of richness and sympathy which marks for him a place in the concert and operatic worlds.

The board of the Woodlawn Woman's club are to be the honored guests as well as members of the Hamilton Park Woman's club.

New Officers for the E. C. & C. A.

Wednesday last a very good representation of the Englewood Commercial and Civic association met at the luncheon at Lain's hall. The nominating committee reported as candidates for the officers for the coming year President Frank C. Berg, Vice President Harry G. Johnson, Secretary George Woollacott and Treasurer Ernest E. Hart.

John H. Lyle, present alderman of the old 32nd ward and a candidate for the same position in the new 17th ward, made a fine talk on the expenses of the city government and how the millions are disbursed, showing that he at all times did his whole duty by his constituents.

These luncheons have become an important factor in the association's life and every business man on 63rd st. should attend them. The new president will announce his committees at the next meeting Wednesday, January 23, as well as what he intends the organization shall do in the coming year.

Still Seeing Sights in Washington

A visit in Washington is a liberal education in itself. There are so many points of interest, historical and educational, as well as its being the political and executive center of our country, that it would be wonderful to afford this opportunity to our High school pupils after graduation. Almost everyone knows of the public departments, but few even in Washington appreciate their scope and thoroughness. Foreign embassies admit that they profit by the business methods of our government, and it causes an amount of pride to hear such compliments.

I made another visit to Arlington yesterday, which, by the way, in the days before the Civil war, was the country estate of General Robert E. Lee, commander of the army of the Confederacy. A monument that attracts much attention is that to the victims of the Maine, sunk in Havana harbor. The entire turret, as well as the main mast and fighting top with full equipment has been mounted on an eminence and marbelized white as a permanent and appropriate memorial for the brave men that went down in Cuba's treacherous waters, victims of a more treacherous foe. Work of extending and improving the immense grounds is still in progress and its many beauty spots made more accessible.

Congress has just passed a bill appropriating about $500,000 to add some more beautiful locations to the far famed Rocky Creek park, the largest and most beautiful city park in the world. One may spend a day driving about in it, and then scarcely see all the beauties of its rugged grandeur. Steep wooded hills almost approaching mountains, are reached by paved drives, the creek is crossed by dozens of rustic bridges and beautiful fords for equestrians and automobiles, and many springs are carefully kept clean in the ravines. Here also is Walt Whitman's rustic cabin, built on the spot he pronounced the most beautiful in the world. Hundreds of equestrians of both sexes take advantage of the bridle paths over hills and down ravines along the beautiful stream from which the park takes its name, and which Washington was fond of riding over. A mere drive through the park in an auto will give but slight idea of its beauties. One must walk and climb to see the secluded points of interest and it is well worth the effort.

If one were to form his opinions from the papers or even the pages of the congressional record, he would expect to find political opponents deadly enemies and at swords' points at all times. Instead, you will find them when "off the floor" the greatest friends and cronies, and in the smoking rooms will regale one another with the choicest bits of gossip or stories. Here is one I heard a Pennsylvania congressman telling an Ohioan. He said, "You know one of the chiefest honors in our part of Pennsylvania is to have been one of the victims of the Johnstown flood, so when one of them died he expected the honors of the celestial kingdom to be extended to him without question. It worked all right at the pearly gates and Peter admitted him, and told him to pick out a golden harp and join the choir, which he proceeded to do. As when on earth his entire song was, 'I was a victim of the Johnstown flood, I was a victim of the Johnstown flood.' Soon he noticed an older angel only half concealing his scornful laughter, which caused the Johnstown fellow great wrath, and he carried his complaint to Peter, who tried in vain to console him, but he was all fussed up about it, and demanded satisfaction from the scorner who he pointed out to Peter, who then informed him that the man that was, so to speak, giving him the horse laugh, was Noah, who was singing of his flood."

An honor held by a Chicagoan is that of chairman of the appropriation committee, which is held by Congressman Madden, well known to Englewood people. This is the committee that is responsible for the financing of all the different departments and, in fact, sets the expenses allowed by the nation. Mr. Madden has succeeded in reducing deficits from seventeen millions to almost even, and is now busily engaged on the appropriations for the next fiscal year, and is the most important member in the house. It is generally understood that Mr. Madden could be elected Speaker of the next Congress if he would accept it, but he assured me that he did not want it. He is an earnest, hard worker, who arose from water boy in a quarry to his present position, and while essentially a self made man, does not boast too much of his creator. He and Congressman Sproul are inseparable companions. We celebrated Mr. Sproul's 66th anniversary last Thursday night, while the friends of former president Woodrow Wilson were also celebrating his 66th anniversary at his home on "S" st.

The greatest evidence of American democracy is the commonplace way the officials and men high in power are treated. Not infrequently President Harding is met on the street, and receives a salute from some of the people who know him, while others may point him out to a stranger, that's all. A cabinet member or senator is just an ordinary chap, while a congressman is ignored more than an alderman in Chicago. The army and navy, on account of their uniforms, receive some attention, and even the gilt and tinsel of foreign ambassadors attract but a glance from the populace. As many people journey out to "S" st. to see the home of former president Woodrow Wilson, and in hopes of catching a glimpse of him, as they do to the White House. In fact quite a number stood in the rain last Thursday on the occasion of his birthday anniversary, to await his appearance. It is not that the people do not respect the authority of the officials, and their good work for the country, but they see so many of them that it would be a waste of time to recognize them all. Then there is that spirit of independence which Casey expressed by saying, "In this country wan man is as good as another and a damned sight betther." There is a foreign lady here to paint the president's picture. She says he is the handsomest man she ever painted. This should make Harry Englestein jealous as several have said I resemble him closely.

Englewood High to Give Entertainment

On the evenings of Thursday, January 25, and Saturday, January 27, the pupils of the Englewood High school will present a somewhat unusual entertainment which they call "A Dramatic Revue." The entertainment will consist of a short farce entitled "The Whole Truth," a well known motion picture, "Quo Vadis," some tableaux Vivants, and selections from a cantata, written by Mr. Espenshade, music instructor and director of music at the Englewood High school. The proceeds of the entertainment will be used as follows: 1. For the purchase of a copy of the Parthenon Frieze, now being prepared by Lorado Taft, to be placed when completed in the main entrance corridor of the first floor of the building. 2. The proceeds will go to defray the expenses of installing a new harp stop, a much needed addition to the school organ. The teachers who have charge of the entertainment are: Miss Evans of the Art Department, Mr. Espenshade of the Music Department, Miss Corkell of the English Department, Miss Hollenberger of the Physical Education Department, Mr. Warner of the Physics Department, and Mr. Archbold of the Electrical Department.

The cast for the one-act play is composed of Mildred Morrison, Edward Butt, Helen Clarke, Hazel Rudoy, Alvin David, Jack Osborne, Harry Nieubeiger, Anna Mae Westerfield, John Kennan. The soloists in the cantata are: Leah Pozo, Jewel Prosser, Albert Adler, Mitchell Popoff, and John Tobin.

I. Himmel & Sons to Erect Another Business Block

Within six months from now West 63rd st., between Wentworth and Parnell aves., will have another new business block. It is the intention of I. Himmel & Sons to erect a two-story business block, 100 feet frontage, with offices on second floor.

This is a step well worthy of praise and should be followed by others who own property in that given territory. This will be the second business block built by the Messrs. Himmel within a period of little over a year.

Since there is a great demand for new business buildings on 63rd st. it surely would be a good investment to build store rooms along West 63rd st., west of Wentworth. Not only would it be in keeping with the modern times, but it would beautify that section of Englewood and encourage trade.
